The Freemotion 3000 XLS Treadmill - Rated Commercial

The Freemotion 3000 XLS treadmill is high-end dream machine -- but one which sells at a mid-range price level. It offers just about every feature and creature comfort you have ever drooled over when you worked out on a commercial machine at a health club. This treadmill is actually rated for commercial use so home users are able to enjoy a health club machine for less than $2,000.

The Machine

The Freemotion 3000 XLS treadmill has a scrolling LED display which shows your segment time, distance, pace, speed, calories/fat burned, and more. Another display shows your workout graphically. In addition, you can start up an iFit® trainer for motivational music and coaching while the program automatically controls the machine's speed and incline.

The complete list of features for the Freemotion 3000 XLS model includes:

- 3.5 CHP Commercial Pro Motor
- 0-12 mph Quick-Touch™ Speed Control
- 0-15% Power Incline
- 9 Personal Trainer Programs; 2 Heart Rate
- iFit® Interactive Personal Training
- 20" x 60" Commercial Quiet Belt
- CardioTrack™ Wireless HR Monitor
- BioStride™ Deck Cushioning
- 350 lbs. max. User Weight
- Coolaire™ Workout Fan
- Lifetime frame & motor warranty, 5 years parts, 1 year labor

The Buzz

Freemotion treadmill reviews written by expert trainers name several nice features to keep in mind when making a purchasing decision. The Freemotion 3000 XLS has a double-coated (resin on both sides) deck, and the 2-ply tread belt performs whisper quiet while rolling over 3.5" crowned and machined rollers that also help to reduce noise to a minimum. Its commercial-grade, 3.5 HP continuous duty motor will run cool and clean for years, and a robust AC lift motor smoothly raises, lowers, and stabilizes the deck on this solid 370-lb machine.

Owners of the Freemotion 3000 XLS treadmill praise its outstanding performance and quality. They mention features such as using the 1-touch buttons controlling elevation and speed without having to scroll through levels, and the attractive console that shows your heart rate readout using either the contact sensors on the handlebars or the wireless chest strap. The quiet operation of the machine allows you to watch TV from across the room or listen to music through the premium speakers on the console.

What We Say

The Freemotion 3000 XLS is a luxury treadmill in every category: features, reliability, value, quality components, workmanship, and
